

NEW! Dewey Video/Podcasting and Doc Cam Stand (DCS7)

Dewey makes it possible (an affordable) for students and teachers to record and stream video with just the basics and with a built-in ring light right on the stand, recordings can be properly illuminated. The sturdy stand sets up quickly and uses devices your school already has, including tablets and smartphones. The hands-free device holder pivots to record the presenter or the desktop for showing demonstrations.

Dewey the Document Camera Stand is a flexible classroom tool and has been helpful to teachers as they suddenly had to teach online and with hybrid models as schools reopen.
